

Children at Work in Victorian Britain

Think about what you have learnt about children at work in Victorian Britain.

Draw a scene in the box below showing a typical workplace for a Victorian child.

A large empty rectangular box for drawing a scene.

What kinds of objects would be in the workplace in your scene?

Write a list below.

Three horizontal lines for writing a list.

Have a think about what you would see, hear, smell, taste and feel in your scene.

Complete the senses grid below:

See

Smell

Hear

Feel

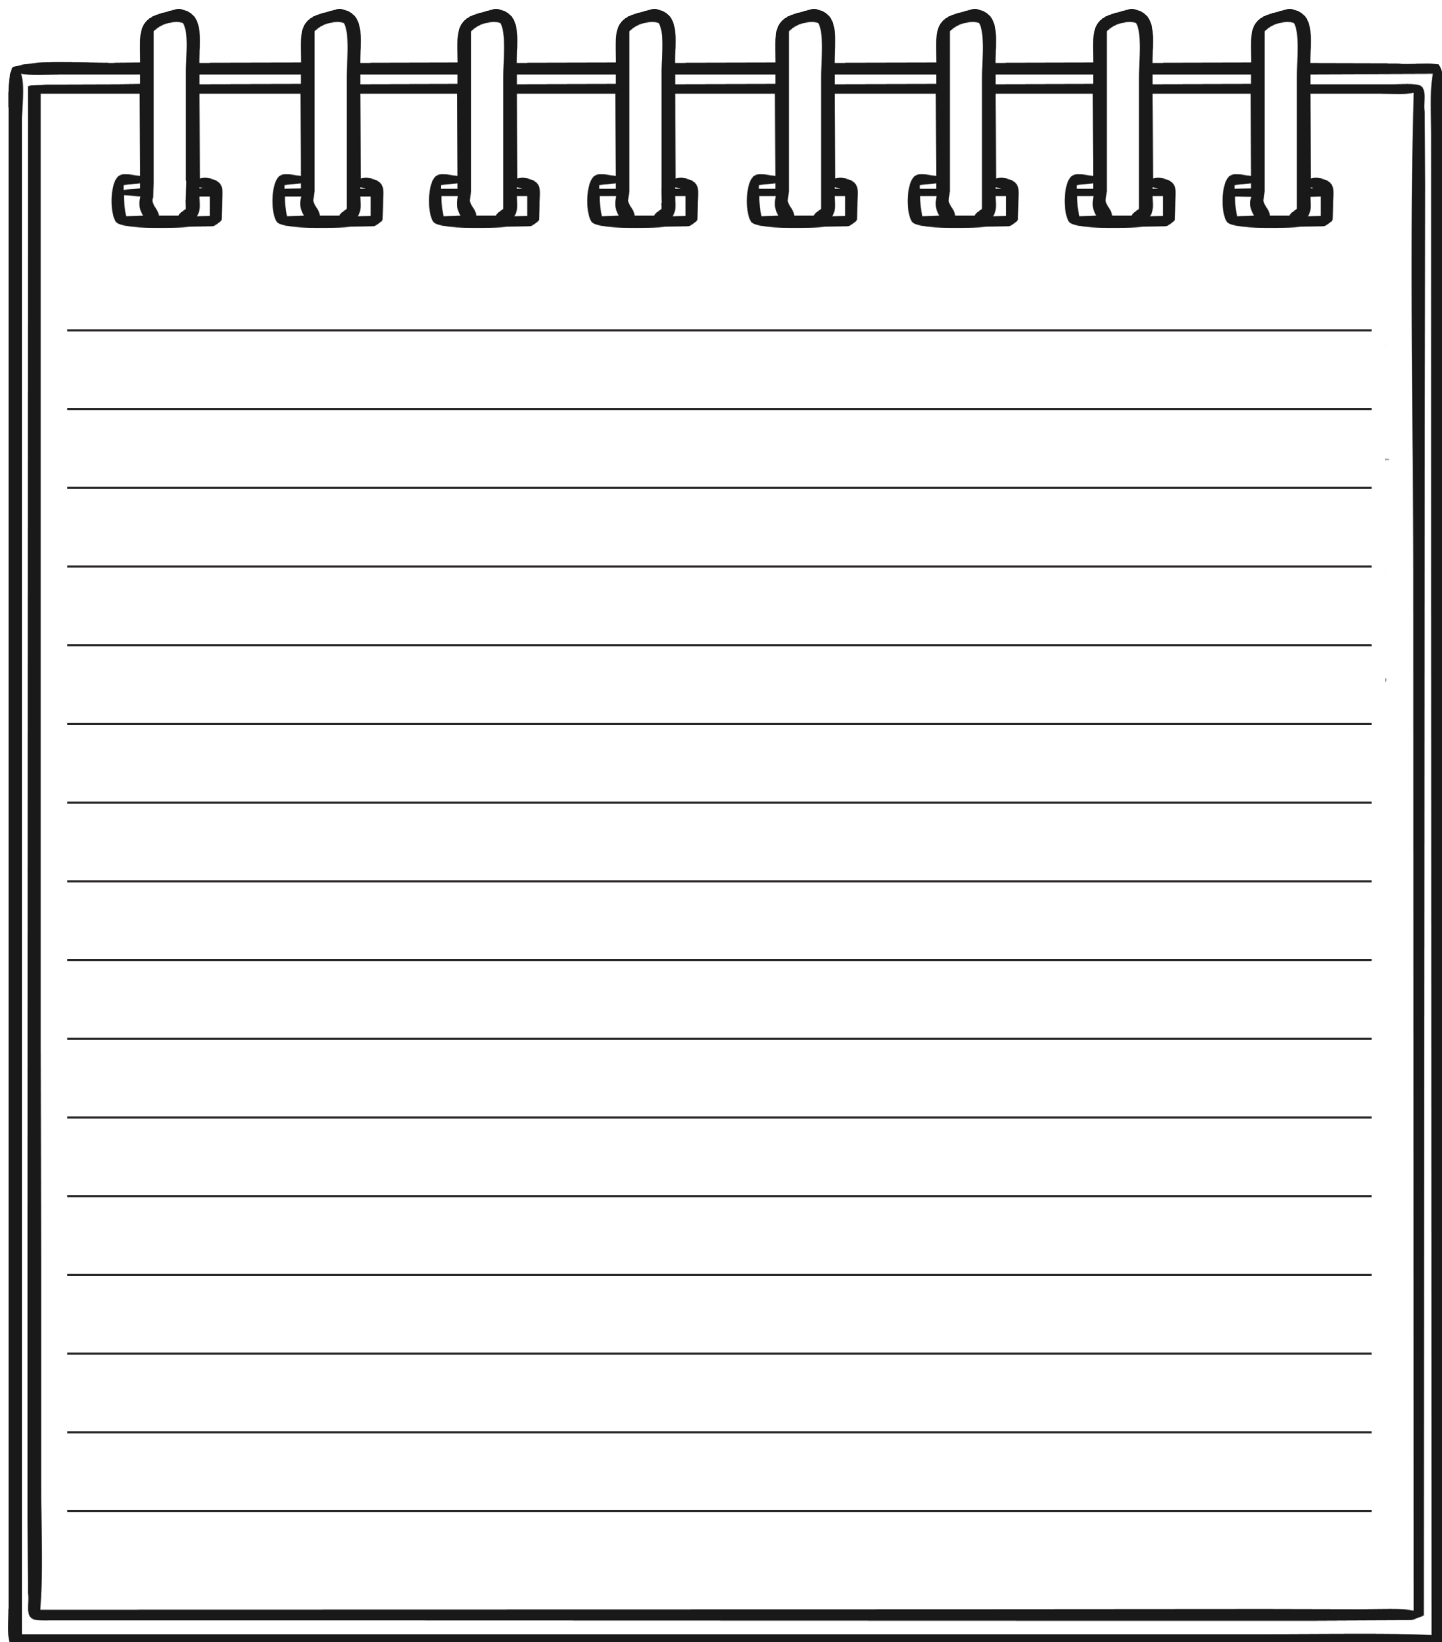

Taste

Write down some amazing adjectives to describe the workplace.

Imagine you are a Victorian child.

Using the information on the previous pages, write a diary entry about a day at work.

Remember to write about events, feelings and your senses.

A spiral-bound notebook with a blank lined page for writing a diary entry. The notebook has a thick black border and a spiral binding at the top. The page is ruled with horizontal lines, leaving a margin at the top. The spiral binding consists of eight white rings.