Your school's score

What this score means

How we calculate this

Similar schools

First, we create a set of 50 statistically similar schools.

These schools are the closest match to yours for proportion of pupils:

- with a statement of SEN or an education, health and care (plan)
- eligible for free schools meals at any time in the last 6 years

We chose these measures because they have the biggest impact on pupil progress.

These are also the same type of school – for example, if your school is an academy, so are all your similar schools.

Funding per pupil

We count all the funding these schools get from government. We adjust this figure to account for different local costs (for example, due to different wages across areas).

Calculating the score

We divide your school's Progress score by your income per pupil. (We need to standardise both scores to do this.)

How to use this information

Similar schools

Your score is a quick overview of how well your school uses its funding to improve pupil progress, compared to similar schools.

We understand that lots of different issues can affect pupil progress. To investigate this properly, you need to use other tools and talk to your management team.

We also recommend that you talk to schools on the similar schools list.

Next steps

Here are some ideas for next steps.

1. Talk to other schools

Consider contacting some of your similar schools to see what knowledge you could share and if you could collaborate.

2. Find out more on the benchmarking website

To get more information about how your school's income and expenditure compares with other schools, use the school financial benchmarking website.

Click here to see the benchmarking website

3. Use the financial planning checklist

DfE provides tools and information to help schools with financial planning and benchmarking. Use the financial planning checklist to see what we provide:

4. Ask the right questions

The 'Top 10 checks for financial planning' explains what to look at when you're preparing to question and challenge school budgets. It's aimed at governors but useful for everyone.

5. Evaluate different strategies for improving learning

The Education Endowment Foundation has a toolkit that provides evidence-based summaries about different strategies for improving learning. You can see how much each strategy costs and how much impact it has.

How your school compares to similar schools

This is the list of statistically similar schools. See how your score compares.

You won't necessarily see local schools on this list. We match you with the most similar schools across the country. That's because we focus on the issues that make the most difference to pupil progress – proportion of pupils with SEN, with an EHC or who are eligible for free school meals. If there are any similar schools in your region, we'll highlight them in the list.
